

Audio Description Association

note pad

Item 156

November 2015

156 Christmas post

A preview of this year's Christmas card from Sightlines Audio Description Services, featuring another snowy scene on Dartmoor. Last year's sheep are replaced by cattle, and thick mist by clear blue sky as a cow licks her calf while its sibling stays close by her side and her companion keeps an eye on the photographer. It comes with seasonal greetings from the Sightlines team – Jonathan, Margaret and Julia. Meet them on the Sightlines website at:

www.sightlines-audio-description.com/Home/the-sightlines-team

If you too would like to use Note Pad to send seasonal greetings from yourself, your group or your organisation to the audio description community, post your card and/or message to:

Audio Description Association, PO Box 306, 17 Holywell Hill, St Albans AL1 1DT

or (preferably) email them to: office@audiodescription.co.uk

Thank you!

Note: For readers who have mislaid their Observer's Book of Farm Animals, the russet-coloured cattle in the photo are Devon Ruby, descended from the traditional red cattle of southern England, and the black cow is a Dexter from south-west Ireland.

Note Pad is ADA's free e-bulletin – email office@audiodescription.co.uk to:

- post an item
- unsubscribe
- receive Note Pad in Word
- become a member of ADA
- donate to ADA

www.audiodescription.co.uk